The Brief

Step into the world of Design; Disruption; Divergence at TheGallery, Arts University Bournemouth, where you can explore alternate realities, dive into different histories, and face futuristic possibilities.

We challenge you to create a digital or physical artefact inspired by the themes or artworks in the exhibition. Your piece should explore the relationship between humans, machines, and the future of creativity.

Feel free to use AI in your work, either as a tool to bring your concept to life or as a theme to spark your research. We would recommend Adobe Firefly as an AI programme for educational use.

We welcome submissions from all creative fields and look forward to seeing how you, as the next generation of artists and designers, navigate this new digital landscape.

The winner will be announced on Thursday 24th April 2025 during our exhibition closing event – the panel discussion Troubling AI. To learn more and book your tickets, click here.
