PORTFOLIO GUIDELINES

On application we require a portfolio that demonstrates your skills, and an MA Proposal. These two elements are used to assess your current practice, ambition and suitability for the course.

The proposal lays out the topics and questions you wish to investigate, and the outcomes you hope to achieve. You may, for instance have, completed a previous course, personal project, or commission that investigates a particular topic and you wish to develop and explore this subject further.

All applicants are interviewed either at AUB, or via Skype or FaceTime. The topic of conversation will focus upon the portfolio and the MA proposal submitted with the application.

You will need to submit:

Portfolio

At least twenty images on your own website or a social network site, such as flickr. In addition, you may wish to present a physical portfolio if attending an interview at AUB.

The portfolio should reflect your current interests and we happy to see work that overlaps with other creative practices such as video, graphic design, or web design. If you have published work, it would be advantageous to see it in context in the form of tear sheets, etc.

Master's Proposal

A maximum 500 words on your proposed area of study. This should reference your own practice to date and give an outline of your project concept or topic, describing how it will progress your career.

This is submitted in the same section of the application form as your personal statement.
