

kscope Projects — Terms & Conditions

Thanks for taking an interest in kscope Projects! We're glad you're looking to take part and we'll try and keep you updated with all the basic details over on the @kscopeAUB Twitter feed. That said, there's a few details we just can't squeeze into a Tweet so we've listed some these below. Don't worry, though, we'll keep things simple.

By taking part in a kscope Project, you're agreeing to the following:

— All kscope projects have a deadline. Unless announced otherwise, this is exactly one month after they begin. Look out for the deadline on the @kscopeAUB Twitter feed. Entries posted after the deadline will not be counted in any prize-based projects.

— In order to take part in any kscope Project, you must upload your kscope creation to both the kscope online gallery at kscope.aub.ac.uk and Twitter. We use Twitter to track entries and contract winners of prize-based projects, so entries not posted to both locations won't be counted.

— Unless otherwise stated, there will only be one prize-winning entry to each kscope Project. Please refer to the @kscopeAUB Twitter feed for further details.

— The prize-winning entry to each kscope Project will be announced on the @kscopeAUB Twitter feed the day after each project closes.

— By submitting your entry to any kscope Project, you're agreeing to let us use it in any promotion related to the project itself (for example, Re-Tweeting it on our @kscopeAUB Twitter feed to announce you as a winner).

— For prize-based projects, the judges decision is final and no correspondance will be entered into.

— Please refer to the @kscopeAUB Twitter feed for details of the prize available for prize-based projects. Unless otherwise stated, there will only be one prize available.